THE GEORGE STRICKER FUND

The Gordon F. Derner Institute of Advanced Psychological Studies was founded, fostered, and made famous by the dedication of its leaders and teachers. Notable among those was George Stricker.

For more than 40 years, George Stricker served as professor, dean, and as the only distinguished research professor in the Institute's history. He has authored nearly 20 books and over 100 journal articles and has served on many boards and committees integral to the development of professional psychology.

Psychology, in particular clinical study and practice, would not be where it is today without him.

Neither would we.

In recognition of George Stricker's vast contributions to the Derner Institute and to Adelphi University, Adelphi has created The George Stricker Fund in honor of the Institute's former dean, teacher, mentor, and friend.

To this end, a committee of distinguished alumni and long-time faculty has been formed so that funds might be raised for The George Stricker Fund.

The George Stricker Fund in Psychology will ensure that Adelphi has the finest faculty as well as the opportunity to attract the very best and most deserving undergraduate and graduate students. The result will be a University whose reputation is ever growing and whose alumni will continue to add distinction to their alma mater and the communities in which they live and work.

To reach our goal, we need your support.
