BUILDING ADELPHI'S FUTURE ONE STORY AT A TIME

THE JOSEPH VIGILANTE FUND

Dean, teacher, mentor, and visionary, Joseph L. Vigilante was an inspiration to all who knew and worked with him. His impact on Adelphi University and the study and practice of social work cannot be overstated.

Appointed in 1954, he served Adelphi with distinction and passion for more than five decades. As dean from 1962 to 1987, he led the School of Social Work to national prominence, vastly expanding its size and influence.

Throughout his career, Dr. Vigilante made enormous contributions to the field. He was a respected author and consultant to numerous educational, state, and federal institutions. Many of his ideas live on through groundbreaking community programs, such as Adelphi's breast cancer hotline, and through the daily contributions of the thousands of social workers he helped to educate.

A natural advocate for social justice, his charismatic personality infuses our memory of him.

In recognition of Dr. Vigilante's decades of leadership and friendship, Adelphi University has created The Joseph L. Vigilante Fund in his honor.

With your help, we will raise $2 million for a restricted fund to support student scholarships, faculty development, and stronger and more engaging School-community partnerships. Together, we can carry out his vision for the future of social work education and ensure that his legacy is forever remembered.
