NEW LEVERMORE LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

CREDITED COMMUNITY INTERNSHIPS!

WHY

Levermore Global Scholars Program (LGS) wants its Levermore Scholars to expand and strengthen their community bonds and civic engagement in local affairs. This experience is crucial for the intellectual, social and personal growth of each Levermore Scholar. For this purpose, the LGS has created a program of credited community internships.

Practical learning through community participation during freshmen and sophomore years prepares the Levermore Scholars for independent professional internships and experiential study abroad in their final two years at Adelphi.

WHAT

Levermore Scholars earn between 1 to 3 credits for their community internship and are required to intern for 4-10 hours per week for a semester while taking courses at Adelphi. It may be possible to do less intensive internships or to work fewer weeks for more hours. The selected list of community organizations opened to hosting LGS interns is available below and on the LGS website. The Levermore Scholars can also suggest other non-profit organizations that are of interest to them, including ones with which they have volunteered.
