Dear President Steger,

The tragic and incomprehensible events that took place on your campus have kept you, your students, staff, and alumni in the hearts and minds of friends on campuses around the country. I write, during what is a terribly dark time at Virginia Tech, to let you know we at Adelphi University stand beside you. Under separate cover, you will be receiving a message of solidarity from our students.

There is no doubt that this event will have a long and sustained impact on your university. I want you to know that Adelphi's resources are available to you, your students, and staff. Should you need anything, please let us know how we might be of assistance.

Over the last few days, your community has endured a monumental loss. May our thoughts and prayers be a source of solace to you and your campus in the coming days and weeks.

On behalf of our trustees, staff, faculty, students, and alumni, I express our deepest condolences.

Most sincerely,

Robert A. Scott
President
