KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Elizabeth Speakman, Ed.D., R.N., FNAP, ANEF, FAAN Associate Provost of Interprofessional Education

University of Science, Philadelphia

Elizabeth Speakman, Ed.D., is professor of nursing at Thomas Jefferson University's Jefferson College of Nursing in Philadelphia. Prior to that, she was co-director of the Jefferson InterProfessional Education Center (JIPEC), associate dean of student affairs and assistant dean of the R.N.-B.S.N. program at Jefferson College of Nursing. Dr. Speakman becomes associate provost of interprofessional education at the University of the Sciences, also in Philadelphia, on May 1, 2017.

Dr. Speakman is a Fellow of the Academy of Nursing Education and a Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF) Executive Nurse Fellow. She has been a nurse educator for 30-plus years and serves as a curriculum expert and consultant with more than 100 national presentations. She served two three-year terms on the board of governors of the National League for Nursing (NLN) and most recently was elected to the NLN Strategic Planning Committee and selected to Chair the NLN Strategic Action Committee on Interprofessional Education.

In 2014, Dr. Speakman was elected a Distinguished Practitioner and Fellow of the National Academies of Practice. She authored the books Interprofessional Education and Collaborative Care in Nursing Education and Body Fluids and Electrolytes: A Program Presentation and has been a contributing author on numerous textbooks.

She received a B.S. in Nursing from Wagner College in 1980 and her master's degree (1985) and doctorate in education (2000) from Columbia University, as well as a certificate in healthcare education from Harvard University's Harvard-Macy Institute.
