PROGRAM
ADELPHI UNIVERSITY

TAKE ON GLOBAL CHALLENGES

In the Levermore Global Scholars (LGS) program, you'll find a unique learning community made up of students with strong academic records, a dedication to developing leadership skills and a commitment to engaging with their community, whether at home or abroad.

You'll connect your major field of study to a broader world context and, because many LGS courses give general education credit, you'll be working towards degree completion. You'll be choosing classes that reflect your global interests while interacting with experts in a variety of fields from GLOBAL PUBLIC HEALTH TO SUSTAINABILITY TO INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS. You'll be able to attend BRIEFINGS AT THE UNITED NATIONS, as well as special programs, lectures and conferences addressing such interdisciplinary concerns as sustainable development, human rights, social justice and peace building.

To face today's most pressing global challenges and create a better future, we need everyone to get involved. Each one of us is a part of tomorrow's solutions.

INTERNATIONALLY RENOWNED INSTRUCTORS

LGS classes are taught by Adelphi faculty members who publish research, win awards and fellowships, and work all over the world. Their seminars are designed to EMPHASIZE DISCUSSION AND CRITICAL THINKING, to examine subjects from a GLOBAL PERSPECTIVE and enable you to LEARN BY DOING through community engagement.

As a Levermore Global Scholar, you'll gain the knowledge to give you a leading edge, no matter which major you choose or direction you take. Our alumni go on to top graduate and professional schools and to careers that take them all over the world."
