

Rockin' Robin Inspired by Kai

Today Kai was using a red robin puppet in the loft. He flapped the puppets wings and said "tweet, tweet" repeatedly. Megan came over and began to sing Rockin' Robin. When Kai didn't respond she assumed he didn't know the song and stopped mid song-at that point Kai picked up and completed the lyrics. Kai did know the song! We decided to give everyone a puppet and play the Jackson 5 version of Rockin' Robin and we had a fun, impromptu dance party!
