Effective nonprofit leaders are always looking for ways to attract, engage and encourage donors in order to ensure sustainability and mission. This month's LeadTime offers articles and resources to help you to expand your outreach to donors by using newly available tools and innovative strategies to achieve impact.

#GivingTuesday Prepares for Round #3

The word "movement" is frequently used to describe #GivingTuesday, which is nearing its third year on Dec. 2. On the heels of Black Friday and Cyber Monday, #GivingTuesday is fast becoming the kick-off event to the giving season. A recent article in the Nonprofit Times discusses how nonprofit organizations are benefiting from the growing movement of online donors during the holiday season.

Social Media Drives Charity in the Modern Era

The hottest viral movement on social media sites like Facebook, Twitter and Instagram this summer was the Ice Bucket Challenge, a fundraiser for amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS). People gave some $100 million alone for the ALS Association, a 3,500-percent boost from the same period last year. Local nonprofits too are rewriting the rules of charitable giving by tapping into grassroots giving, engaging in social media and bringing people together for a good cause are.

Nassau County Local Economic Assistance Corporation

Nassau County Local Economic Assistance Corporation (LEAC) was created by the Nassau County Executive Edward P. Mangano to assist the nonprofit sector with its financing needs. LEAC is now operational, allowing the County to provide nonprofits access to inexpensive capital with a streamlined process and lower fees. LEAC is authorized to issue taxable and tax-exempt bonds and to act as a financial conduit by making the bond proceeds available to an eligible organization.
