The Office of Residential Life and Housing, consistent with the academic mission of Adelphi University, seeks to create an integrated academic and cocurricular educational environment for its residents by providing programs, services and facilities that contribute to the intellectual, social and cultural development of students. During the academic year, the Office of Residential Life and Housing sponsors more than 300 seminars, workshops and events, which are led by faculty, staff and off-campus educators. Topics include interpersonal relationships, interviewing techniques, cultural diversity and stress management, among many others.

Each residence hall is supervised by a full-time, professional residence hall director (RHD). An Adelphi RHD is committed professionally and personally to the concept of the residence hall as a center of learning. The RHD lives and works in the hall throughout the year and supervises a staff of trained graduate and undergraduate resident assistants (RAs). In addition, each building has hall attendants who register guests before they may enter the building during evening and late-night hours.

Every year, the residents of each building elect a hall council. Through the Resident Student Association, the hall councils manage an activities budget, provide social programs for residents, suggest additional policies that complement those established by the University and communicate student concerns to the Office of Residential Life and Housing.

All resident students are required to purchase one of the meal plan options detailed on the Housing Agreement Form or noted at adelphi.edu/meals.

Residential Life and Housing
More than 1,300 students reside on Adelphi University's Garden City campus. Adelphi maintains seven distinctive residential communities: Chapman Hall, Earle Hall, Eddy Hall, Linen Hall, New Hall A, New Hall B and Waldo Hall. All of our halls are coeducational by either floor or wing and have common areas with televisions, kitchenettes with ranges, microwaves and sinks, vending machines and free laundry facilities. Each room is equipped with beds, dressers, desks and chairs, and is wired for cable television and computer access (wired and wireless). Mailboxes for students are located in the lobby of each residence hall.

Chapman Hall has four floors and is home to the Green Living Community. It is a convenient residence hall located midcampus, a short walk from Swirbul Library and overlooking the William J. Bonomo Memorial Field (baseball). The Learning Resource Program offices are on the lower level.

Earle Hall is the largest residence hall on campus. The Office of Residential Life and Housing is located on the first floor, along with Honors College. Also housed in Earle are the Honors College suites, the Student Media Center, the Language Lab and the Learning and Writing Centers. Earle, located near the outdoor sports complex, Motamed Field and the Performing Arts Center (AUPAC), shares the quad with Waldo Hall.

Eddy Hall, adjacent to the William J. Bonomo Memorial Field, is home to the Greek suites, located on the lower level. All rooms are air-conditioned and lounges are available on all floors.

Linen Hall offers students a quiet and relaxed atmosphere. Students from around the world who participate in the ELS Language Program enhance the global experience of the residents of Linen Hall.

New Hall A features a private bathroom and individual climate control in each of its rooms. Other features include lounges on every floor and an attractive landscaped courtyard opening onto the campus. New Hall A offers an excellent view of the Janet L. Ficke Softball Field.

New Hall B, Adelphi’s newest residence hall, features an environmentally sensitive design with heating and cooling systems powered by geothermal technology. All rooms include private bathrooms and individual climate control. The building offers students great views from top floor lounges of baseball games played on the nearby William J. Bonomo Memorial Field.

Waldo Hall has four floors and houses the Health Services Center. The bright lounge of this residence hall has received an enthusiastic response from visiting applicants and residents of the other halls. Waldo shares the quad with Earle Hall.

Special Living Options

Honors College
The Honors College area of Earle Hall can accommodate approximately 45 Honors students in suites, each with a semiprivate bathroom and common room. Honors College classrooms, study lounges and computer rooms are also located in Earle Hall. Students housed in these suites must be enrolled in the Honors College program, and housing assignments are subject to approval by the Honors College dean.

Green Community
Recycling and sustainability initiatives are important to Adelphi and are implemented throughout the University. Chapman Hall hosts the Green Hall Council and Community, a program where students learn and develop eco-friendly living standards, which are then encouraged in all residence halls.

Note: Please indicate if you would like to be considered for one of the special living options. (Honors College is limited to accepted students only.)

For any other preferences or accommodation requests, email housing@adelphi.edu. The residential life and housing staff will respond to your request and update your file. The residential life staff does its best to accommodate housing requests, but cannot guarantee every request.

Winter and Summer Housing

During University breaks, such as winter intersession and summer, students who have an approved reason to remain on campus (member of athletic team, international student, attending classes or internship, or working for the University), may request housing. Requests will be approved only with an accompanying signature from a University official. Please note that there is an additional charge for intersession and/or summer housing, which may also require relocating during the break.
