Dependent Special Conditions Form 2022-2023

The U. S. Department of Education allows schools to take into account situations beyond a family's control that may significantly alter the financial picture demonstrated on the FAFSA. Examples of these situations include a parent's involuntary termination of employment or reduction in wages, divorce or separation of parents whose income is reported on the FAFSA, or the death of a parent whose income is reported on the FAFSA. Situations not considered are those that are voluntary such as a voluntary retirement, consumer debt, regular living expenses, and income reported annually on your federal tax return. Students with a calculated EFC of '0' on their FAFSA, will not be considered for a special condition.
