HONORARY DEGREE

EDUARDO VILARO '85, CEO AND ARTISTIC DIRECTOR OF BALLET HISPÁNICO

Eduardo Vilaro is artistic director and chief executive officer of Ballet Hispánico, the largest Latinx/e/Hispanic cultural organization in the United States, recognized by the Ford Foundation as one of America's Cultural Treasures. The company has performed its repertoire of more than 75 works for more than two million people in the United States, Europe and South America. In 2024, Vilaro is celebrating his 15th year of leading Ballet Hispánico and building its brand of contemporary dance that reflects America's changing cultural landscape.

Born in Cuba and raised in New York from the age of 6, Vilaro's choreography is devoted to capturing the Latin American experience in its totality and diversity and through its intersectionality with other diasporas. His works are catalysts for new dialogues about what it means to be an American.

After earning a Bachelor of Fine Arts in dance from Adelphi, Vilaro was a Ballet Hispánico dancer and educator from 1988 to 1996. He went on to earn a master's degree in interdisciplinary arts at Columbia College Chicago, then founded and became artistic director of Luna Negra Dance Theater in Chicago. Vilaro has created more than 40 ballets and has been recognized with numerous awards and honors, including the Ruth Page Award for choreography, induction into the Bronx Walk of Fame, inclusion in City & State Magazine's inaugural Power of Diversity: Latin 100 list, and selection as a Grand Marshall of the 2022 Dance Parade, Inc., in New York. Also in 2022, Vilaro was named one of Forbes magazine's Kings of Culture: Legends in Business.

*The audience is requested to stand, as able, during the Processionals and the singing of the National Anthem and Alma Mater, and to remain in place until the completion of the Recessional. Guests and graduates are asked to remain in their places until the end of the academic procession.

HONORARY DEGREE

PATRICK O'SHAUGHNESSY, DO, MBA '13, FACEP, PRESIDENT AND CEO OF CATHOLIC HEALTH

Beginning his Catholic Health career as an emergency department physician, "Dr. O" is an accomplished executive with more than 20 years of strategy, innovation and operations experience. Selected by Catholic Health's board to serve as president and CEO in 2021, Dr. O'Shaughnessy is passionate about using his platform to address food insecurity, population health management and providing greater access to care.

Dr. O'Shaughnessy earned his medical degree from the New York College of Osteopathic Medicine and then completed training in emergency medicine at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine. He practiced emergency medicine in a variety of settings over a 17-year clinical career, culminating in supporting first responders and rescue efforts during the 9/11 attacks on the World Trade Center. He holds master's degrees in business administration from Adelphi University and in population health management from Thomas Jefferson University.

Under his direction, Catholic Health has launched programs aimed at improving health and decreasing the risk of chronic disease in low-income individuals and families by offering easy access to healthcare services, including advanced primary care, preventative screenings and making use of digital technology to better identify disease at an earlier stage. Believing that food is medicine, he has aligned Catholic Health's resources to provide healthy food and patient-tailored nutrition and disease-related information to individuals identified as food insecure.

COMMENCEMENT CEREMONIES

The exercises of the One Hundred Twenty-Eighth Commencement of Adelphi University are enacted today at Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum. The counterpart of the pageantry enacted each year on campuses all over the world, Commencement is the ultimate recognition of the graduates' years of study and preparation for responsibility. To help spectators understand the significance of today's ceremonies, the following description is furnished.

PROCESSION

Candidates for graduation process according to school or college, with each school led by a representative carrying the banner of that school. The schools process in order of their founding dates:

- College of Arts and Sciences
- College of Nursing and Public Health
- School of Social Work
- Gordon F. Derner School of Psychology
- Robert B. Willumstad School of Business
- College of Professional and Continuing Studies
- Ruth S. Ammon College of Education and Health Sciences

When all the students are in place, they are asked to stand, as able, for the procession of the faculty, wearing the colorful hoods of their many different alma maters.

The platform party follows, led by the mace bearer. The mace is present only on formal academic occasions when participants are in full regalia and the president is involved. It symbolizes the authority invested in the president by the school's governing body. It signifies the proceedings have official sanction.

The platform party includes the president of the class, the Student Government Association president, the Graduate Student Council president, recipients of the Faculty Excellence Awards, Faculty Senate Leadership, faculty sponsors of honorary degree candidates, and honorary degree recipients.

Next, the Deans and the Executive Leadership ascend the stage. Representatives of the Adelphi University Board of Trustees process next, followed by the Provost, then the Chair of the Board of Trustees. When the President of the University is in place at the lectern, the Mace is put in its stand and the ceremony officially begins.

ACADEMIC ATTIRE

All candidates for degrees and those who hold these degrees, including Adelphi University officers and faculty and visiting dignitaries, are attired in traditional cap and gown. Academic attire for the Adelphi degree candidate is brown. The candidates wear tassels on their caps (called mortarboards) and hoods of various hues draped over the backs of their gowns.

CAPS

Master's, bachelor's and associate degree candidates wear mortarboards with brown and gold tassels. The Adelphi doctoral cap is a brown velvet tam with an old-gold headband and tassel.

GOWNS

The bachelor's and associate gown, which is brown and gold with Adelphi's logo on the sleeve, has bell sleeves. The master's gown, also brown, has oblong sleeves open around the forearm; there is a piece of fabric that hangs down from the sleeve that is referred to as a "wing." At Adelphi, the doctoral gown is brown with brown velvet panels on the front and chevrons on each sleeve.

HOODS

The bachelor's and master's hoods are brown, with brown and gold lining. They differ in length (the bachelor's is three feet, the master's, three and one-half) and in the width of the trim (the bachelor's is two inches, the master's, three). The doctoral hood is brown with a gold lining and brown chevron. It is four feet long and the trim measures five inches wide. All hoods' outsides are bordered on top with velvet, which will change in color due to the degree the candidate will receive.

THE HISTORY OF ACADEMIC ATTIRE

Academic costume of today has a history of nearly eight centuries. In medieval Europe, all townspeople—men and women—wore long flowing robes and gowns. The materials and colors varied according to the wealth and rank of the individual and were governed by royal decree. Gradually, there developed distinctive gowns for the various professions, trades and guilds.

Students in the medieval universities of Paris, Bologna, Oxford and Cambridge organized themselves into guilds. Their usual garb, a long gown, was necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings. Scholars, generally members of church orders, wore these robes and also hoods to protect their shaved heads. Later, skullcaps were worn on the head, and the hood became a cape that could be pulled over the head in unpleasant weather. As additional universities were founded, distinctive forms of the gown and hood were adapted by their faculties for bachelors (apprentices of arts), masters (teachers) and doctors (teachers who had completed postgraduate studies). The variations, mostly in the hood, were regulated by strict rules. Tailors who departed from the authorized design could be punished. When caps and hats came into fashion in the 15th century, the hoods became ornamental, draped over the shoulders and down the back.

The academic hat was adapted from the headdress of the ordinary people. It was first worn as a symbol of the master's degree and existed in various forms. Some caps were stiff, some soft, some square, some round with a tuft in the center. The tassel of today is an elaboration of the tuft. The mortarboard style comes to us from Oxford University. As they were founded, American colleges and universities adopted the gown, hood and cap from their European antecedents. In Europe, styles were, and still are, quite varied; in our country, usage has been largely standardized by the Intercollegiate Code of Academic Costume.
