INTRODUCTION

This handbook provides information on policies, procedures, and resources related to graduate assistants and their employment. As a part of an effort to attract talented students, several types of positions are available to students working toward a graduate degree at Adelphi.

NATURE OF APPOINTMENT

Graduate Assistantships are part-time academic appointments that are available through student employment in a variety of offices and departments including academic departments, research units, administrative offices, and service units. There are several types of Graduate Assistants: Teaching Assistant; Research Assistant; Administrative Graduate / Service Assistant; and Graduate Intern/Traineeship.

Each Graduate Assistant will receive an individual assignment within the hiring unit to complement his/her academic course load. Graduate Assistants are student employees, albeit apprentices, in a university. It is the assistant's responsibility to become familiar with the policies, regulations, that pertain to graduate assistantships, as well as the academic regulations of the Graduate School, of their academic unit, and of the unit in which they have an assistantship.

Assistantships can be on a semester basis or may be awarded for an academic year. Different units offer various combinations of tuition remission and/or stipend.

Application Process, Qualifications, and Appointment Process – these differ from unit to unit. As early as possible, students should contact the Dean or Chair of the unit they will be studying in, and any other area to which they may wish to apply, for deadlines, application details, and description of responsibilities.

Graduate Assistants are now permitted to work a maximum of 27 hours (except for international students, who can work a maximum of 20 hours per federal regulations).

Academic units and applicable departments will maintain documentation which shows work performed and hours worked by Graduate Assistants.

Academic units will record assistantship offers and acceptances in the Slate software.

The Student Course Load section within the handbook should be updated by program to reflect the accurate amount of credit hours a student should be registered for, as the amount varies by program and students are not required to be registered for 9 credits.

Graduate Assistants who receive tuition remission and drop a course after the graduate assistantship has been granted and posted to their accounts will receive a refund for the amount that the graduate assistantship exceeds the reduced amount of tuition. The refund will be taxable income to the student.

TYPES OF GRADUATE ASSISTANTSHIPS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Duties are assigned over the entire semester in terms of the number of hours worked per week.

Teaching Assistant (TA)

Teaching assistants participate directly in the teaching of a course or in specific teaching support or related activity. This is expected to be a learning experience that helps the student prepare for a professional academic career. A supervising faculty member will specify a combination of recitation, lab assistant, demonstration setup, grading, and other duties for courses within the unit. Some examples of teaching assistant positions are included in the charts in section VIII.

Research Assistant (RA)

Research assistants participate in research as directed by a faculty member or a principal investigator of a grant-funded research project. This is expected to be primarily a learning experience in how to conduct research and to help the student prepare for a career. Some examples of research assistant positions are included in the charts in section VIII.

Administrative Graduate Assistant/Service Assistant (SA)

Administrative graduate assistants participate in the administration or service activities of a unit in tasks related to their course of study or that will help them develop skills and experience related to their career direction. The appointment is primarily a learning experience and helps the student prepare for a professional career. The assistant should be given the opportunity to learn the functions of the office as well as educational management procedures. It is not expected that such an appointment be made solely to provide routine student clerical support.

Traineeship/Graduate Intern (GI)

Graduate interns are generally hired by an external unit. Therefore, each such position is unique and specific to the student. The academic department, in conjunction with the hiring agency, will generally determine the work assignment for the graduate intern.

Undergraduates

Undergraduate students are permitted to fill a graduate assistantship position if there are no graduate students available or qualified for the position.

Undergraduate merit scholarships can be carried forward into graduate years up to established limits for certain programs. Adelphi University has the authority to determine if undergraduate merit scholarships can be carried forward to graduate years.

Eligibility for Appointment

A graduate assistant must be enrolled in a graduate degree program, making satisfactory and timely progress toward their degree, and with approval of the Office of the Provost. Appointments are customarily made for those students who have shown superior aptitude in their field of study and who appear likely to render a high quality of service to the University through their teaching, research, or service activities. In addition, all Graduate Assistants must be eligible to work in the United States and present the proper documentation to the office of Human Resources prior to beginning their graduate assistantship.

Acceptance of an Appointment

Acceptance of an offer for a graduate assistantship by an actual or prospective graduate student constitutes an agreement that both the student and the appointing unit are expected to honor. In those instances, in which the student desires to withdraw, the student may submit in writing a resignation of the appointment. A student is committed to not accept another offer of employment or assistantship within the University without first obtaining a written release from the department or academic unit to which the initial commitment has been made.

CONDITIONS OF APPOINTMENT

Status, Term of Appointment and Time Commitment

The maximum graduate assistant appointment is 27 hours per week. With special approval of the Provost's Office, a student may instead hold multiple smaller, fractional-time, appointments that do not accrue to more than 27 hours per week – this includes hours worked for all campus jobs combined. International Students are only allowed to work for 20 hours a week. Students complete and must electronically sign the online Graduate Assistantship Form, which includes information entered by the unit that details the term, type of assistantship, tuition remission, stipend, number of hours per week of work required and a list of primary duties. Students are entitled to a copy of the information on this form. This form must be approved by the Department Head, Vice-President or Dean, Provost's Office, Budget Office, and Human Resources Office before becoming official. (Each is responsible for certifying a different aspect of eligibility for the graduate assistantship.)

The time specified is assumed to be the average time commitment per week. It includes hours spent outside of the classroom or laboratory in the preparation of supporting work. Nevertheless, the actual time spent in fulfilling duties will vary by individual because of differences in the types of duties assigned, personal experience, and the professional demands of the particular discipline. Even within departments, assignments vary each semester, and some graduate assistants may find themselves busier than others during a given semester. Departments should provide similar compensation (including stipends and tuition) for positions with comparable job responsibilities and time commitments.

Graduate Student Academic Performance

Graduate assistants are expected to make satisfactory progress toward their intended degree. Minimum standards are determined by the individual academic units. Note that all Adelphi graduate students must earn a minimum GPA of 3.0 to qualify for graduation.

Administration of the Assistantship

Graduate assistants are directly supervised by the department or unit that offers the appointment. The unit determines the assignment, supervises work, recommends reappointment, and is the primary source of information concerning the details of the assistantship. The unit may assign these responsibilities to a chair, director, a specific faculty member, or a committee of faculty. Each department is responsible for outlining its own specific criteria for a graduate assistant's duties within the framework of University policy. In general, satisfactory progress toward degree completion coupled with a dutiful discharge of responsibilities is a major consideration when the time comes for evaluating a graduate assistant's performance.

Other Employment

Only in very exceptional cases will a graduate assistant be permitted to hold more than the equivalent of 27 hour per week appointment. Due to Immigration regulations, no exceptions will be made for international students. A graduate assistant holding a briefer appointment may also be employed as a student worker for the remaining hours up to 27.

Graduate students are expected to devote their time to their studies and to their assistantship. This means that a graduate assistant should not be employed off-campus unless the work involved is directly related to the student's educational goals. Although the combined responsibilities of graduate student and graduate assistantship should occupy all the time available to a student during the academic year, the University does not prohibit outside employment by graduate assistants in addition to their University appointment. It is up to the graduate assistant to determine how much time, if any, they may devote to additional activities and still maintain satisfactory progress toward degree completion and satisfactory fulfillment of their obligations as a graduate assistant. However, departments and programs do have the discretionary right to make appointments to students whose commitment suggests that they are most likely to attain their educational goals and maintain assistantship responsibilities in the most effective manner.

Student Course Load

A normal course load for a graduate student with an assistantship is considered to be 9 credit hours in a semester. For federal and state, and other financial aid purposes only, 12 credits are considered a full-time course load. The maximum course load for a graduate student is 16 credit hours each semester. Approval of the Dean is necessary for deviations.

Graduate students must enroll in graduate level courses to meet the above minimum credit hours. Audit work will not qualify to meet the minimum load; however, audit work is calculated in determining a student's maximum course load. Requests for overloads must be approved prior to registration. [For example, a strong student in good standing academically with a 15-credit course load, a 20 hour per week assistantship, and no other employment can expect a Dean's approval.] Special situations that do not require special permission include: School of Education – full-time graduate students take 12 credits; Arts & Science-Environmental Science students in 5 year Bachelor/Masters sequence take 15 credits; Derner Ph.D. program students take 18 to 21 credits per semester during their first year and 12 to 18 credits in subsequent semesters. Also, students in their final semester who have completed their coursework and are working on their thesis are allowed to take less than a full-time course load.

Renewal-Support Limits for Assistantships

Graduate Assistants may be considered for reappointment if they remain eligible. Reappointment is not automatic. Reappointment is based on department evaluation of satisfactory performance of assigned responsibilities, the availability of positions, and department needs. Students must apply for reappointment through their departments or other appointing units.

Resignation

Graduate assistants who must resign during or prior to the end of their appointment must do so in writing. The actual date of resignation may be mutually determined by the hiring unit and the graduate assistant. Graduate assistants should give the appointing unit as much notice as possible when resigning so that suitable arrangements may be made to find a replacement.

Termination Before the End of the Appointment

Appointment as a graduate assistant is contingent upon and subject to satisfactory performance of assigned duties, as determined by the chief administrative officer of the appointing unit. An appointment may be terminated before the expiration of the contract under certain conditions, including, but not limited to:

Termination of appointment for adequate cause:

- Failure to perform reasonable assignments due to incompetence or neglect of duties;
- Unethical conduct (e.g., job-related misconduct; moral turpitude);
- Failure to maintain eligibility for continuing enrollment in an academic program.

Voluntary mutual agreement between the graduate assistant, supervisor, and head of the appointing unit (resignation by graduate assistant).

Before terminating a graduate assistant for unsatisfactory performance of job duties, the immediate supervisor may give the graduate assistant written notice of the specific deficiencies in performance, as well as suggestions for improvement where appropriate. The department chair, director or supervisor should also be involved in this process. If the unsatisfactory performance is not corrected and a decision is made to proceed with termination, the chief administrative officer of the reporting unit may give the graduate assistant a pre-termination hearing. The process should consist of the supervisor giving the graduate assistant oral or written notice of deficiencies and an explanation stating the basis for the charges. The graduate assistant should also be allowed to present reasons, either in person or in writing, stating why the termination should not take place. After the proceedings, the head of the appointing unit should notify the Provost's Office of the outcome. If the decision is made to proceed with the termination, the relevant documentation must be sent to the Human Resources Office.

Non-resident alien issues/International Students

International students may be considered for graduate assistant positions, if permitted by the terms of their non-immigrant visa. F-1 international students cannot work more than 20 hrs/wk while school is in session, inclusive of all positions they hold. While school is not in session, international students may work more than 20 hours with a maximum of 40 hours per week.

Graduate Assistant Form

The Adelphi University Graduate Assistantship Form has now been put online. All information and approvals must be entered electronically. This form can be accessed through CLASS.

STIPEND AND BENEFITS

Pay Schedule

Hourly rates vary by unit, but compensation cannot be less than the prevailing minimum wage. Generally, doctoral students are paid higher rates than master's degree students. Graduate Assistants receiving stipends are paid four times per semester (end of the month student payroll date in Sept., Oct., Nov. & Dec.; Feb., Mar., Apr., & May, or summer months).

Remission of Tuition

The amount of tuition remission varies by unit, but the amount should be similar for comparable positions.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILLING OUT THE ONLINE GRADUATE ASSISTANTSHIP FORM

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

The Graduate Assistantship Form, available electronically through the eSAAS service on eCampus, shows the type of assistantship and an overview of the general terms and conditions. The form has space for SCHOLARSHIP and/or for STIPEND details. One or both of these areas will be completed by the unit for each graduate assistant. The SCHOLARSHIP AMOUNT box lists the maximum amount of money that will be applied to the graduate student's account as tuition remission (if a student takes fewer courses the form is rejected and returned to the Department/ unit for adjustment). The Graduate Assistantship Form is processed in the following order:

Department/Unit – Fills in form and discusses specific responsibilities with students. It is approved by the student and by department/unit representative.

Provost's Office – Checks and approves that unit has provided a description of duties and responsibilities for the position that is educationally appropriate.

Budget Office – Verifies unit budget is sufficient to cover the amounts listed on form.

Student Financial Services – Verifies that amount of Scholarship is less than or equal to Tuition and makes all necessary changes to the students financial aid package as required. Receipt of a Graduate Assistantship may impact a student's eligibility for other financial aid awards including scholarships and loans. Graduate Assistantships in combination with other awards may NOT exceed the cost of tuition. Students with questions about their financial aid package should contact Student Financial Services prior to signing their contract.

Human Resources – Verifies student has completed all necessary employment forms. In the case of International Students, the office verifies that all necessary employment forms are completed as well as Work Authorization forms.

Payroll Department – Processes STIPEND details and calculates tax withholding.

Checks cut.

Send checks to the unit for students to pick up.

In the execution of any of these steps, an office may need to contact the student for more information. A prompt response decreases processing delays and ensures that tuition remission and stipends are credited to a student's account on time.

Note that the Scholarship portion of a graduate assistantship is a credit against tuition awarded to a student. In order for this award to be credited to a student's account in a timely manner, and to avoid late payment fees, the paperwork for the graduate assistantship must be processed by the Student Financial Services Office prior to the beginning of the semester for which it is intended. [By June 10 for Fall semester, by November 23 for Spring semester, and by the last day of Spring semester for the Summer semester.]
