But what happens when those rough patches lead our students astray in some way? How can parents help their student get back on track without overstepping?”

Carol A. Lucas, Ph.D., LCSW, Director, Counseling and Support Services spoke on the many services available to our students and ways that parents can be instrumental in helping their student reach out for help.

Debra Kyriacou, Executive Director of Academic Services, in the Office of Academic Services & Retention addressed issues related to falling behind in classes, use of the academic supports at Adelphi, and advisor issues.

Parents are encouraged to review the webpages of both offices for insight into the many services available.

The meeting adjourned at 7:35 p.m.
